CENTRALISED OPERATIONS

Business Pilot revolutionized our workflow by centralising the entire project. It streamlined everything from tracking manufacturer pricing to scheduling phased installation dates. When the client requested Phase 2, having all historical data stored in one hub allowed us to access the original files instantly and pick up right where we left off with zero friction.

BRIEF

Introduced to the project by a trusted building partner, the goal was to bring a sleek, modern aesthetic to a beautifully refurbished cottage nestled in the heart of Surrey.

THE CHALLENGE

The property featured traditional light brickwork and distinct stone wall features that required careful balancing with modern materials. Originally, the windows and doors were quoted in a dark grey aluminium. However, when the architect suggested a lighter color tone instead, the team had to pivot the design to ensure the new palette perfectly complemented the existing stone features without losing that contemporary edge.

“ Business Pilot completely revolutionized our workflow. ”
